

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, April 27. 1703.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated May 1.

Vienna, April 18.

ON the 14th dyed the Arch-Dutcheſs Joſepha, the Emperor's youngſt Daughter of three, in the 16th Year of her Age, of the Small Pox; and on the 15th was buried, without Ceremony, in the Church of the Capuchins. The Emperor was ſo much concern'd at her Death, that for 3 Days he kept his Chamber, and would not ſign any publick Diſpatches. Count Tekkely's Lady dyed at Galata on the 10th of February, and was buried with great Solemnity in Conſtantinople; of which her Daughter the Counteſs of Aſpremont receiving Intelligence, deſir'd leave of this Court to put her ſelf in Mourning, but it has hitherto been denied her. Count Schlick has ſent a Liſt of the Forces he commands, and at the ſame time acquainted the Imperial Miniſters that he is ſtrong enough to make a ſtand againſt the Bavarians. Mean time Orders are given for 20000 Peaſants of Bohemia to be ready to defend the Avenues of that Country. There is a Talk likewiſe of raiſing 18000 Peaſants of the Country of Tyrol, who are expert at Shooting, to reinforce our Troops and render them ſtrong enough to prevent the Junction of the French with the Bavarians. Some Miniſters of this Court have promiſ'd to take ſuch Meaſures that the Army in Italy ſhall be augmented to 40000 Men: whether Prince Eugene of Savoy will go and take upon him the Command of that Army before it be increas'd to that Number is uncertain; But 'tis ſaid that he will be made Preſident of the Council to which the Management of the War is intruſted, in the room of Count Manſvelt; who oppoſes this Promotion of Prince Eugene, and has a ſtrong Party at Court.

Ratiſbon, April 23. The Elector of Bavaria deſers granting the General Paſs demanded by the Imperial Diet, and draws his Forces nearer to us. On the 19th 5 of his Battallions paſt by this City by Water: his Army lyes at Preuſſingen within 3 Miles of this Place, and ſome Regiments are ſo weakened by the Fatigue of hard Marches that they will be ſent to Ingolſtadt. Inſtead of the expected Imperial Ratification of the Aſſurance propos'd by the Elector of Bavaria for the Security of the Diet and this City, the Imperial Commiſſioner acquainted the Diet laſt Night, That the Emperor deems it unbecoming his High Dignity and unworthy of the Empire to hearken to the Propoſals of the Elector of Bavaria, before he has deliver'd up the Places of which he has poſſeſs'd himſelf unjuſtly and by Force of Arms, and reſtor'd them to their former State: And that forasmuch as the Deputies might be wanting to their Maſter's Intreſts and their own Duty, while they are under Compulſion from the Elector of Bavaria, His Imperial Maſteſty declares all that has been or ſhall be done in Prejudice of His ſaid Maſteſty, the Empire or any part of it, The Imperial Conſtitutions or former Reſolutions of the Diet, to be nul and invalid. At the ſame time the Imperial Commiſſioner ſignified to them, that the Emperor had ſent his Ratification of the Reſolution paſs'd in the Diet on the 4th of this Month, that this War againſt the King of France, the Duke of Anjou and their Abettors, is not a War of Religion. And added, that His Imperial Maſteſty would ſpeedily make known his Pleaſure touching the Place whither he would have the Diet be remov'd.

From the Harlem Courant, dated May 1.

Ratiſbon, April 23. On the 21ſt 3000 Bavarian Foot march'd towards Donawert, the Horſe will quickly follow them, and will endeavour, 'tis ſaid, to joyn the French at Willingen. 'Tis reported the Elector of Bavaria is Sick at Munich. To-day General Luſelberg arriv'd in this City and will be follow'd by 900 Men, with what Deſign is yet unknown. General Stirum is poſted with his Army at Calmutz, where he has receiv'd Reinforcements of ſome Franconian Troops, and is determin'd to march and fight the Elector of Bavaria.

From the Harlem Courant, dated May 1.

Cologne, April 27. Two days ago a Dutch Regiment of Fireworkers, Gunners, and others employ'd in the Service of the Artillery, paſs'd by this place on their way to Bonn; and were follow'd to day by a Lieutenant, an Enſign and 33 Miners from Maeſtricht. The Elector Palatine went to day from Mulheim to Siegburg, and the Prince of Saxe-Zeyts is gone after him. The Regiments of Munſter are come to Nippes, and will continue their March to Bonn. Between this place and Duſſeldorp are 60 Veffels laden with Ammunition, and about 30 which were already come hither, were ſent up the River to day; all Materials for making a Bridge are likewiſe ſent up and will be laid over the River at Mondorf. The Governour of Bonn has turn'd all the Women and Children out of the City, but detains all the Men. The Generals Hochkirchen and Hompes have the command of the Troops that are to attack the Fort on the ſide of the Rhine over againſt Bonn, which conſiſts of 4 Ravelins, 2 whole and 2 half Baſtions; their Quarters will be at Wilich and Swart Reindorp. This night General Coehorn with ſeveral Head Officers, took a View of Bonn by Moon-light, after which the Troops were order'd to draw cloſer about it. The Batteries will be ready to play upon the Town on the 7th of May.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated May 1.

They write from Cleves of the 28th, That the Line of Circumvallation round Gelder is perfecting with all diligence, that the Garrifon had open'd a Sluyce to incommode the Workmen employ'd in the Line, tho' with little Effect; and that if the fair Weather continue, 'tis hoped the Garrifon of that Place will be oblig'd to ſurrender for want of Proviſions within two Months.

From the Harlem Courant, dated May 1.

Amſterdam, April 30. Some private Letters which came by the Poſt out of Germany, ſay, that in the Attacks made by the French on the Lines at Stolhofen, they had 6000 Men kill'd, 2000 taken Priſoners, and left the greateſt part of their Cannon and Baggage behind them; and that the Loſs of the Allies was very inconfiderable. We expect all the Particulars of that Action by the next Poſt.

Hague,

Hague, April 30. General Slangenberg will go from hence to Cologne to Day or to Morrow. My Lord Woodstock arriv'd here last Night, being return'd from travelling in Italy and Germany. My Lord Raby is gone to the Army before Bonn, but is shortly expected back hither, before he set out for the Court of Berlin.

Plymouth April 25. Yesterday arriv'd here Her Majesty's Ships the Exeter and Centurion, and under their Convoy the Borneo from East-India, and other Ships from Ireland.

Portsmouth, April 25. On Fryday last, being the Anniversary of the Queen's Coronation, great Rejoycings were made here, all the Guns round this Garrison were fired at Noon, as also at the same time those on Board the Men of War at Spithead; from whence the East-India, and other Merchant-Ships will certainly sail the first fair Wind, on their respective Voyages. Sr. George Rook on Board the Royal Sovereign continues at Spithead.

London, April 26. On Saturday 16 French Officers Prisoners of War, who were brought from Oxford and put into the Gate-House, were carried thence to the Tower.

A Fire happen'd on Saturday Night near Execution Dock in Wapping, which burnt a great Number of Houses, and 2 or 3 Vessels that lay close to the Shore.
